

Oh cleaning and scrubbing
will wait till tomorrow,
but children grow up,
as I've learned with my sorrow.
So quiet down, cobwebs.
Dust go to sleep.
I'm rocking my baby.
Babies don't keep.

Ruth Hulbert Hamilton, 1958